DETAILED ACTION

Response to Reply Brief to Examiner Answer

1. The examiner carefully studies the prior arts again versus the applicants' arguments and agrees with the applicants that the combination of prior arts of Grossman, Tsuria, Howe and Pico do not teach or suggest and/or provide any motivation to each and every feature in claim 23 and claim 31.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 2-3, 5, 7-8, and 23-39 have been allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 23 and 31, the prior art of record fails to either alone or combine to teach or suggest each and every feature in a system and its corresponding method, wherein a system comprising a server configured to provide a data stream transmission; and a digital set top box configured to periodically download from the server selected data sets according to user profile information., the selected data sets being included within the data stream and representing information elements for display to a user during switching events; displaying a first one of the information elements in response to initiation of a first switching event, the first switching event being characterized by unavailability of information from the server for display; and discontinue the display of the first one of the information elements and displaying the data stream information from the server when it becomes available for such display, unless the user has initiated an interactive transaction session with a remote host by selecting an interactive element associated with the first one of the information elements in which the displaying of the data stream information from the server is delayed until termination of the interactive transaction session or expiration of a predetermined period of inactivity of the user.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
